

Pueblo City Employees Federal Credit Union Privacy Policy

Pueblo City Employees Federal Credit Union is committed to safeguarding your confidential information. Below is information about what we do to protect your information, and also some steps you can take to protect your personal and financial information.

Types of information we collect. We collect nonpublic information about you from the following sources:

- Information we receive from you on applications or other forms;
- Information about your transactions with us or others; and
- Information we receive from a consumer reporting agency.

We do not disclose any nonpublic information about you to anyone, except as permitted by law.

If you decide to terminate your membership or become an inactive member, we will adhere to the privacy policies and practices described in this notice.

PCEFCU restricts access to your personal and account information to those employees who need to know that information to provide products and services to you. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with federal regulations to guard your nonpublic personal information.

What members can do to help.

- Protect your account numbers, card numbers, social security numbers, PINs (personal identification numbers), and passwords. In particular, never keep your PIN with your debit or credit card, as that makes you vulnerable in the event you lose your card or your card is stolen.
- Use caution in revealing account numbers, social security numbers, etc. to other persons. In particular, if a caller tells you he/she is calling you on behalf of the credit union and asks for your account number, you should beware. Legitimate credit union staff would already have access to that information.
- It's important that the credit union has current information about how to reach you. If we detect potentially fraudulent use of your account, we will attempt to contact you immediately. If you address or phone number changes, please let us know.
